Model GR 95 Free Standing Vertical Gun Rack Assembly Bucket Seat Installation

Unrestricted air bag dispersion into the driver's and passenger's seating areas remains a critical liability concern for police fleet administrators. Police car downsizing and increased use of add on equipment (video recording, MODATS, etc.) has created a space crisis within the vehicle.

Utilizing the proven design features of its GR 86 and GR 92, Sage International, Ltd. has developed the GR 95. Using all steel construction, the GR 95 is designed as a freestanding vertical weapon's mount. The GR 95 can be mounted on the transmission tunnel behind or between the bucket seats in vehicles without prisoner screens. Structural support is obtained in both axis by four (six optional) floor mounted telescoping support legs. Differences in roof height of various vehicles, weapon barrel and butt stock configurations are important considerations when selecting weapon security racks.

The Sage International, Ltd. GR 95 Free Standing Vertical Gun Rack Assembly has the following features:

- Air Bag compatible.
- Primarily for vehicles without prisoner screens.
- Location and construction of mounting points allow mounting on the transmission tunnel behind or between bucket seats which frees up valuable floor space in the front of the vehicle.
- Legs adjust for length.
- Leg assemblies are adjustable for radial movement.
- Four flex floor mounting pads (six optional) which, when combined with adjustments for leg length, rotation and radial movement, give virtually unlimited mounting possibilities.
- Adjustable trigger guard shroud which aids in preventing accidental discharges.
- Accommodates nearly all standard law enforcement rifles and shotguns (rifle and pump & semi-automatic shotguns require different lock mechanisms).
- Accepts most key, electric or key/electric locks.
- Accepts standard or extended magazine shotguns.
- AR15/M16 rifles can be secured in the GR 95 with magazines in the rifle.
